THE UNIVERSITY

The Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit was established in November 1993 by an Act of Kerala State Legislature, as an institution of higher learning, with a particular focus on Sanskrit Language and literature, Indology, Indian Philosophy, Indian Languages, Arts, Social Sciences, and other related subjects. Kalady, the birthplace of the great Indian Philosopher Adi Sankaracharya, is the headquarters of the University. Apart from the Main Campus at Kalady, the University offers Programmes at Regional Campuses at Payyannur, Koyilandy, Tirur, Ettumanoor, Panmana and Thiruvananthapuram. The presence of Sanskrit, Sanskrit Studies along with the disciplines of Liberal Arts, Humanities, Languages, and Social Sciences places SSUS in a rare advantage of being a compact HEI with the potential for collaboration among several disciplines. As teaching and research departments, SSUS departments are familiar with the research-oriented pedagogy. These features place SSUS on a firm and competitive footing to profile itself along with the high- end private universities and other HE institutions in the country and even beyond.

About SSUS-FYUGP

FYUG-Programmes offers a composite learning framework with Four Year long UG programmes with a curricular emphasis on research. The programmes of FYUGP prioritize students' choices, flexible curriculum structures and critical thinking. The uniqueness of the SSUS lies in the rare discipline-based combinations that it has been nurturing over the years. The presence of Sanskrit Studies along with the disciplines of Liberal Arts, Humanities, Languages, and Social Sciences places SSUS in a rare advantage of being a compact HEI with the potential for collaboration among several disciplines. As teaching and research departments, SSUS departments are familiar with the research-oriented pedagogy. These features place SSUS on a firm and competitive footing to profile itself along with the high-end private universities and other HE institutions in the country and even beyond. Moreover, for the research aspirants in Sanskrit Studies, the FYUG Programmes offer the possibility of a decade-long learnership within the SSUS academic community, which could lay the foundations for the creation of high- end scholars who can bring together the best of traditional and modern scholarship. In full agreement with the philosophy of learning outlined in the KSHEC Curriculum Framework, the Curriculum Framework of SSUS FYUG Programmes fosters a dynamic learning environment based on the idea of progressive self-learning, and Outcome Based Education (OBE). In the FYUG Programme set up, teachers take on the role of guiding students on how to learn not only by inculcating in them a self-driven library culture but also by accessing diverse resources available in the ICT environment. This approach not only connects students with a global community of learners but emphasizes learning through active engagement with scholarly and archival material and through interface with technology. The SSUS FYUG Programmes prioritizes hands-on learning experiences both in the classroom, field, library/online resources, industry, and other socially relevant institutions/organizations. It plans to encourage self driven initiatives such as tutorial assignments, seminars, interactive group sessions, practical workshops, and credited internships. It encourages students to harness the wealth of available E-resources for self-directed online learning, complemented by interactive face-to-face sessions guided by scholarly mentors. This accommodation not only provides a critical parity between SSUS credit levels and other HE institutions within the country but, perhaps more importantly, they agree with international credit-level specifications mandated by foreign universities and research institutions. In the context of the SSUS-Office of International Affairs (OIA) projects of international collaboration—both in conducting joint programmes and in setting up collaborative research—this credit-level parity acquires strategic importance in that it could facilitate student and faculty mobility.
